into a somewhat warmer atmosphere. There has certainly been comment in Britain on the drastic reduction of Moscow's output of anti-foreign propaganda. But Peking is as hard at it as ever. After Dr Mayo's statement in the UN, Peking retorted by another long chapter on the alleged germ warfare, consisting wholly of a series of "confessions." Nobody is much interested in this any more. T is a rather sad commentary on the corruption of all normal ethics which Communism brings in its train that one set of doctors can thus malign their fellow-practitioners of another nation. Nor can it be palliated by the suspicion, which did attach to the origination of the germ war propaganda, that it was a smoke-screen to obscure the neglect of the health authorities in North Korea. ### WOMEN "LASHED PUNCHED & STRUCK"

Johannesburg, Jan. 15.

Miss Freda Troup, British author and supporter of the African "passive resistance" movement, alleged today that she saw African women lashed, punched and struck by European prison wardresses here.

Miss Troup was supporting similar allegations about the treatment of male African prisoners made earlier this week by Mr Manilal Gandhi, journalist son of the late Mahatma Gandhi.

She made her allegations in a letter to the Johannesburg Star which detailed her experiences during a 25-day prison sentence last November for illegally entering the Germiston native location with Gandhi and Mr Patrick Duncan, an Englishman.

While in prison, she said she saw a wardress fling a baton "with splendid aim" at a cowed African woman who did not answer quickly enough a question

The Gold Sovereign Is Still Minted

By J. W. TAYLOR

THE British gold sovereign has been very much in the news lutely. In two places in Yorkshire hoards of these colns were found where they had been hidden by owners long since dead. And the latest story from the Royal Mint itself is that 318,000 have been made to give young workers practice in gold coining. the supply being returned to the Bank of England to remain as part of the nation's gold reserve. This happened previously in 1949 when 138,000 were made. The last sovereigns coined for general circulation were struck as far back as 1917.

Minting of sovereigns is quite the most highly technical work undertaken by the Royal Mint. Less than 40 of the several hundred craftsmen employed are engaged in the various processes of gold colaing and only half a dozen of these are furniliar with the exacting standards demanded m the production of Britain's valuable and artistle coin. The metal behaves very differently from other alloys, and the high value of gold demands the ort ption of special measures to ensure the safety of the material during the various stages of coining. There is even grow skill in the tidying-up job of retrieving gold dust and fragments—a money-saving task.

HALF AS HEAVY

English sovereigns have been only half as heavy as the first ever minted. Made during the reign of Henry VII, they weighed 240 grains. They were then produced in the of London until the Royal Mint was removed to its present site early last century. Henry's coins were handstruck, and the "rounds" were lopped off cylindrical rods like slices of cucumber, with resultant variations in weight. This was rectified with the introduction of mechanical production after the Reformation. Dies were cut by fined until the latter part of the last century. Today, the dies ore cut by mechanical process from arlist's sketches.

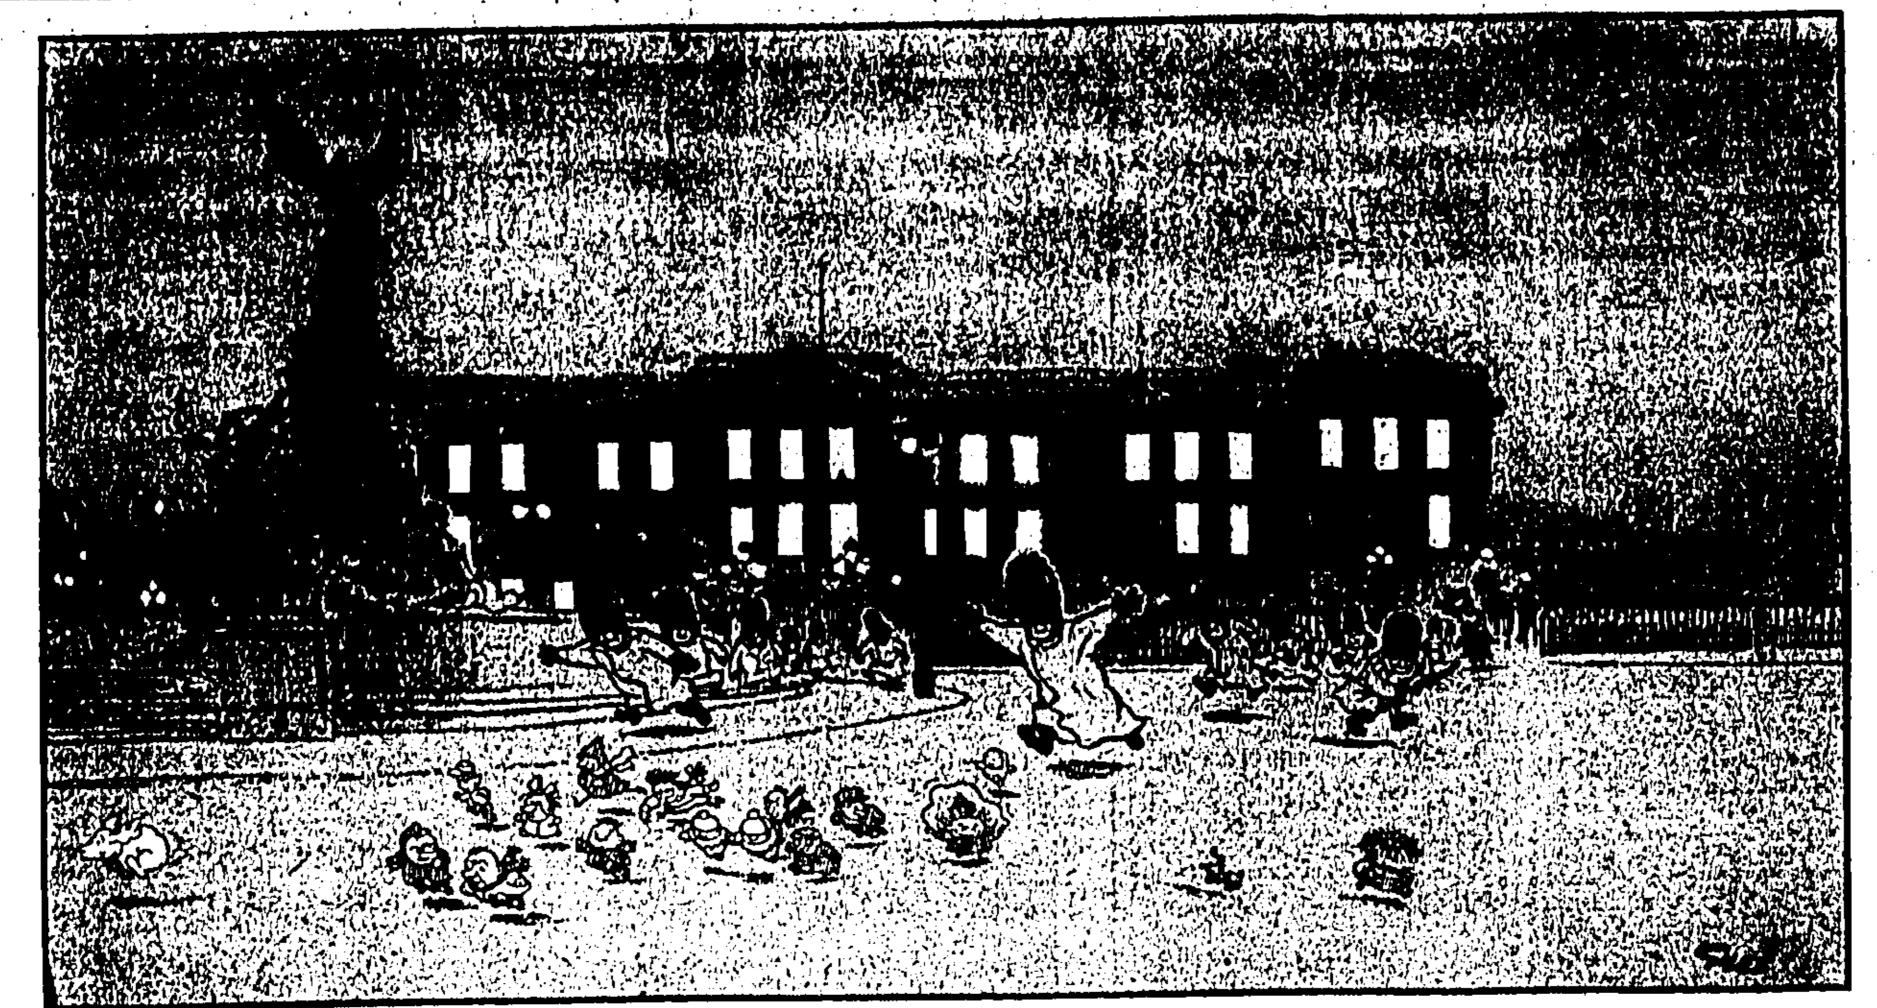

The British sovereign has a considerable world value. It featured in one of the strangest items of news that came early in the Korean war. American aircrews were issued with them in case they made forced landings and had to buy aid from the natives. The coin is still the most valued currency in many parts of the Orient. It is certoo, that there are thousands of them hourded in India, where the coins are assiduously handed down from father to son.

BIG HAUL

In the middle of the last war the Customs made one of its biggest hauls in sovereigns from India, Smugglers tried to get sovereigns, cunningly stowed away in dhows, out of Bombay, They were encased in rubber so that they could be concealed around the body in packets of fifty, but the coup failed.

Forgers in Italy were recently arrested for minting gold sovereigns in a basement in Milan. These were said to be almost perfect. The lower price of bar gold enabled the forgers to make good profits by seiling the spurious coins in Middle East markets. On the Continent the sovereign market value has reached as high as £0 and £8

Two years later he had become a clerk in the Anglo-Egyptian Bank in Paris, but the outbreak of the Franco-Prusidan War in 1870 compelled him to leave. Shortly after this it came to his notice that Mr Louis Bischoffsheim, the senior partner in the Jewish financial house of Bischoffsheim and Goldschmidt in London, was looking for a conndential clerk.

The firm received hundreds of applications, most of them in the flowery and self-adulatory phraseology of those days. But one of them was three lines ,long and read; w

MASSEL'S clear, trenchant and Uncluttered mind had hoisted him on the first rung of the ladder of success. He was offered the post and brought to it the astonishing qualities of firm judgment, strong will and unerring flair which were to behis constant stand-bys.

He rose, with astonishing rapidity. Within a year of starting-with a salary of £200he was made a manager, and there is a story that when Bischoffsheim offered him a salary of £500 a year Cassel quickly replied: "You mean £5,000" and £5,000 It was.

A runaway Royal romance between a German Prince and a Commoner saw the start of the Mountbatten family. Of that romance a son was born, Prince Louis of Battenberg. He became First Sea Lord of the British Admiralty, was sneered at as a German when the 1914-18 war came, and resigned, later changing his name to Mountbatten. He had a son, Lord Louis Mountbatten. ### Choral Group Of Hongkong To Programme Present Varied

Professor Elisio Gualdi's Choral Group of [11] Hongkong was formed some years ago so that his pupils could meet each other socially and, at the same time, have the pleasure of singing as a choir and studying part singing. Even now, every choir member is either a student of his or has studied music under the Professor in the past.

One of the Choral Group's major undertakings was a performance in 1950 at the Lee Theatre of "Cavalleria Rusticana", and the outcome of this encouraged them to produce "Traviata" the following year.

For their programme, which is at 8.30 p.m. on Wednesday, the Group has chosen a varied selection | Joy of Life white song Anne of songs-ranging from Shakespeare's "Sigh No More, Ladies" to folk songs from Portugal, Mexico, and Sicily. Of these, several of the settings have been specially arranged for choir by Professor Gualdi 12 15 p.m. STUDIO: SPORTS TIME. himself.

China and the United States, considered by many as the two strongest teams in the International Series, are matched in the feature Charity Exhibition programme tomorrow in aid of the Shumshuipo Fire Fund, commencing at 2 p.m. at King's Park, and if the Chinese ballplayers can find the speed, precision and ideas, they are given a good chance of beating the Americans, drawn largely from the USS Orca team.

China will have to show more team spirit if they are to make much progress against the United States. I find it difficult to understand why Mark Kwong, C. C. ### This Goalkeepers' Protection Racket

By I. M. MacTAVISH

During last season I had a long talk with a well-known international centre-forward on the subject of, what he liked to call, "This Goalkeepers' Protection Racket": He meant by this the reluctance of referces to permit forwards to apply the shoulder charge to the goalkeeper and he was of the opinion that many legitimate goals had been chalked off by timid referees who offered the goalkeeper protection beyond that laid down in an intelligent interpretation of the rules of the

The strange thing about this controversial point is that most goalkeepers do not want, nor do they require, excessive protection. The most famous example of this in recent years happened at Cardiff a couple of seasons ago when ironshouldered Trevor Ford crashed Jimmy Cowan, the Scottish international goalkeeper, to the ground with a tremendous shoulder charge, that other top-class keepers felt the same way about it. He pointed out, however, that what goalkeepers were concerned about was the inconsistency in the interpreta-, tion of the charging rule. It often changed from referee to p referee and from game to game. What was regarded as foul in one game was accepted without question in the next.

Last week-end at Caroline Hill we had a perfect example. of the referee disallowing goal after the goalkeeper had tion shouldered into the net in possession of the ball. This incident probably cost attacking side the game.

The player concerned, and his team, very rightly felt aggrieved, for if ever there was a legitimate goal scored in this fashion it was this one. But the important thing is that this was the third time this season that it had happened here.... and in my opinion, and in the opinion of those whose judgment I value highly, every one Portugal, managed by Arturo | Bernadine Remedios, at of these should have been Street, 4 p.m. other grand display is expected Ozorio, will be given enough second, Stella Correa at third, classified as legitimate goals,

CHATER ROAD MATCH THE BEST OF THIS AFTERNOON'S PROGRAMME

By "THE ZOMBIE"

The Scorpions and Optimists take top billing in this afternoon's Cricket League matches as they clash against each other in the Senior Division.

The games between these two HKCC teams have always been played in a spirit of the keenest rivalry and have invariably produced some excellent cricket. In their first round match this season, which resulted in a draw, no fewer than 417 runs were scored in one afternoon, a record not beaten this season.

Prescription Make A Stayer

JAMES PARK

It is always as well to have a look round to see whether there is another Tulyar in the offing. He had 8 st. 2 lb. in the Free Handicap and went on to win all his races as a three-year-old, including the Derby, Eclipse Stakes, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth Stakes, and St Leger.

That sort of thing happens now and again, but so far only the Army and the seldom as to make it little more than the dream of the Scorptons have managed to force -super-optimist.

NOT IN CLASSICS

I should say he was not in the first When scarching for such another in this year's Free Handicap. I first thought of staying two-year-olds like St Vincent and Prescription

Then I discovered who St with not much more than Vincent was sold at this month's sales at Newmarket. He has no nothing else seemed to be gallopclassic liability and, having been bought by one of the agencies, them down, made up the leeway l assume we have seen the last of him in this country.

There is no prospect of winning post. Prescription developing into a Derby condidate for the simple reason that his only classic engagement is in the St Leger. And of class but on the Newbury diswith that early opinion of the owner-breeder let me say I am in complete accord.

If there is one thing Prescription looks like doing, it is making a stayor. And at that he has a long way to go before he can be placed near the top class. He had no more than 7st, 10lb. in the Free Handicap.

I saw Lord Rosebery's colt at his best on only one occasion. That was when he won at Newbury. His first success was in a mile nursery at Ayr when he was set a moderate task.

TOOK THIRD PLACE

One who haw him win that day told me I need not look any similar race at Newmarket's botter than his handicap mark Second October meeting. Others thought so, too, and Prescription Added interest will be shown as a result of Army's defeat last four points behind Army, stand the soldiers, but it will not surrun for Championship benours. The Scorptons, who are only prise me if they lose today.

Last season, with the League standings in an almost identical position, the Optimists nearly upset the Scorpions' appleant by defeating them towards the end of the season.

Both teams are now well up to form and a close game is expected with the odds in favour of the Sempions, especially if they take second lease of the wicket.

The Scorpions are a better all-

'round side and the Optimists anave not only to show exceptional form in batting and bowling but also in fielding, at which they are greatly handlcapped, if they are to upset the League-leading Army will be

Would breathing oxygen during the interval of a football match help to eliminate the fatigue caused by the first half's play?

FOOLED THEM

Again the doctors say no. They tested this in their treadmill experiments by giving oxygen for five minutes after the athletes had finished running. It did not speed their rate of recovery.

When the doctors fooled the athletes by giving them ordinary air from bottles marked "oxygen" they ran just as well as when given real oxygen.

But untrained runners did better when they thought they were getting an oxygen boost.

This suggests that amateur footballers who do not get much time for training might derive some psychological bene-

TODAY'S RUGGER

By "PAK LO"

This afternoon's rugger takes place on the Club ground at Happy Valley. There are three games scheduled to be played, the first being a Club "B" fixture when they take on the A.A. Workshop REME, the second between the Rest of the Colony and the Rest of the Services.

Most interesting is the third between K.C. Johnson's XV and Commander British Forces XV at 4.15 p.m. The first game kicks off at 2.00 p.m. and the second at 3, 15 p.m. All the games should provide some good rugger.

In the first game the A. A. Workshop will be out for revenge as they were whacked 25-3 by Club "B" last time they played each other. Russell has picked a strong "B" team for this game both in the forward and back lines, and the A. A. Workshop will be lucky if they are able to avoid a defeat,

The "B" pack still has a few weaknesses, mainly in the lineout, where a little jumping will improve their play and give their backs a good chance to get under way.

Club "B" should win the greater percentage of the set scrums, and provided their threequarter line watches its passing they should score quite a lot. The Workshop team, which is still trying to settle down, can defeat Club "B" if they mark their men in the lineout, and tackle hard and low, and if they move faster in the loose than last time.

The second game, which kicks off at 3.00 p.m. should also be very interesting as the teams are much of a muchness and the winners' laurels could go to elther one or the other, but the Rest of the Colony have on 'Cidal', a pleasantly perfumed paper the slightly stronger side, and if they tackle a bit harder than usual they should win.

Some of the Colony's threes passing has been weak of late and this could jeopardise their chances if the Services loose forwards do their job properly. This should prove a good game, but should not have the excitement of the final one.

PLENTY OF THRILLS

The second senior game should provide plenty of thrills as both fifteens are the strongest the selectors could provide. The Commander British Forces XV (hereafter CBE XV) has the stronger looking pack and Eve, as hooker again faces Owen. Eve should win the greater share of the ball from the set scrums.

advantage However Sir Adolphe Abrahams, the should be evened up in the famous medical authority on lineouts where Johnson's XV sport, believes that the four- have Wilkins, the England minute Mile could easily be player, who shone in this Race (1.30 p.m.).

> Behind the packs are two good lines of threes but Johnson's XV have the slightly better set in my opinion, and given the chances they should get, should be able to score.

The CBF XV has the better the Secretary on the written or personal introduction of a member, loose forwards, however, and incy could easily upset their airectly give their own threequarter line a chance to show their worth,

With McNiven and Payne on the wings and Turville and Davis as centres this could be a very dangerous combination and McNiven will need to be well marked as he has been playing very well of late, and it takes a good hard tackle to stop him,

This should be a very even game with Johnson's XV having a slight advantage, which should the field the victors.
